

Smart Meters: Health, Safety and Opting Out

a talk with Q&A by International Safe Tech Expert Kent Chamberlin, PhD

Kent Chamberlin, Past-Chair and Professor Emeritus in the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering, University of New Hampshire

Drawing on over more than forty years in academia and research, Dr. Chamberlin will address smart meter health, safety and privacy concerns. He became involved in the issue of wireless radiation safety after being asked to serve on a New Hampshire bi-partisan state commission tasked with investigating biological harms from wireless exposure.
